

There is no difference between XM radio and cable tv. Both are pay services and both should be available to those who choose to pay for extra services.